
DESCRIPTION

Product Description

Discover the robust and efficient Williams Comfort Products 9806 Vent Tubes, crafted for optimal airflow in HVAC systems. These twelve-inch tubes are engineered for strength and durability, ensuring dependable service under a variety of environmental conditions.

- Constructed from high-quality materials to withstand extreme temperatures.
- Engineered design optimizes airflow and minimizes pressure drop.
- Easy installation with pre-drilled holes and mounting brackets.

Product Highlights

Designed specifically for enhanced air exchange, these vent tubes aid in maintaining a comfortable work environment, making them ideal for various industrial applications.

Product Information

Standard Information

- Brand: Williams Comfort Products
- MPN: 9806

Technical Specifications

- Material: Galvanized Steel
- Length: 12 inches
- Diameter: 9 inches
- Compatible with: Wall Furnaces
- Part Number: 9806