

REPLACING WICK

While your humidifier came equipped with a Wick, you will eventually have to replace it, as they last approximately 4–8 weeks, depending on use. Many factors affect the life of the Wicks, including amount of use, water hardness and outside environmental factors. You will know the Wick needs to be replaced when it becomes hard and is no longer absorbing the water effectively. Replace the Wick with a genuine Vornado® Wick. While other brands may fit our units, these wicks do not carry the same quality and life as our own and may diminish the humidifier's performance.

REPLACING WICK

1. Turn humidifier Off and unplug.
2. Remove Power Head.
3. Remove and discard used Wicks.
4. Install new genuine Vornado Wicks by slightly bending the Wicks to match curve of unit. Make sure Wicks fit flush against bottom of unit and snug against Inlet Grill.
5. Replace Power Head. Your humidifier is now ready for use.

Wicks contain an antimicrobial preservative. Protection is limited to the product. Wash hands and avoid touching eyes after handling wick.

The additional sodium in chemically softened water may cause Wicks to harden. Try using untreated or tap water. Hard water or water with excessive minerals, such as lime or iron, may shorten Wick life. Try Bacteriostat or Water Treatment found at most hardware or home specialty stores.

On first use, the Wick may give off a mild odor. The odor is not harmful and will go away after the first few hours of operation. If the odor is exceptionally strong, you can help eliminate most or all of it by soaking the Wick in a solution of 2 teaspoons of white vinegar and one gallon of water for 20–30 minutes. Rinse thoroughly in cool water. Allow excess water to run off and dry before replacing them in the Base. DO NOT wring.
